To whom it may concern,

My name is Mikayla Hellwich, and I am Jeffery Battle's mental health therapist. I am a clinical social work intern at Innovative Therapeutic Services in Laurel, Maryland.

I first met Mr. Battle on October 4th, 2023. During his first appointment, I performed a thorough biopsychosocial intake assessment in accordance with agency policy. At this time, I diagnosed him with Mild depression (disorder) (F32.A) and Anxiety (F41.9/300.00).

After independently verifying the nature of Mr. Battle's legal concerns to rule out paranoid and psychotic disorders, it was immediately clear that his depression and anxiety symptoms are directly related to the false conflation of his identity with that of a terrorist. As a patriotic military veteran and devoted father and husband, his identity being publicly associated with a terrorist due to some apparent technological error is causing severe and prolonged distress.

Mr. Battle has stated to me more than once that he fears for his life. He worries that government agencies may come after him due to what they see in Bing. He fears that he could either be detained or killed by counterterrorism officials by mistake. This affects his mood, sleep, relationships, and day-to-day life.

Everyday experiences like visiting his daughter at college out-of-state have become stressful and difficult. When he goes through TSA, he fears that his ID will be run through a system using the same artificial intelligence that has mixed up his identity and will result in his detention.

Prolonged states of physiological distress cause elevated levels of cortisol in the body. Cortisol is a hormone which affects nearly every organ system: nervous, immunity, cardiovascular, respiratory, reproductive, musculoskeletal, and integumentary. As cortisol levels increase, each of these systems undergoes maladaptive changes in response. These changes precipitate a range of acute maladies, such as heart attack, and chronic diseases, such as cancer and Cushing Syndrome (Thau et al., 2019). Prolonged cortisol exposure can be deadly.

Mr. Battle's mental and physical health are at risk. It is of the utmost importance for his health and safety that his identity be disentangled from the terrorist with whom he shares the same name.

Thank you for your time,
Mikayla Hellwich

Dear Mr. Battle:

Congratulations! Let me be one of the first to welcome you to the adjunct faculty of Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University, College of Career Education. Based on your academic background, you are being appointed to the rank of Adjunct Instructor.

Enclosed is a copy of the College of Career Education's Faculty Academic Orientation Manual. The FAOM is designed to acquaint you with Embry-Riddle University, in general, and the College of Career Education in particular. It will provide you with information that will make your transition into the ERAU family as timely and smooth as possible. The emphasis of this manual is on academic information but some administrative information is, of necessity, included. Also, now that you have been approved to teach for ERAU, you are a member of the University's Intranet Community: ERAU Online. The system is powered by Blackboard and is the #1 faculty resource for communication, information, course management, and collaboration. You also have an ERAU email account that is a primary Extended Campus' faculty information source. (Please access it frequently for the latest information).

Selection to join the adjunct faculty of Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University is a significant honor, which demonstrates that you are willing to meet the challenge of teaching, mentoring, and facilitating the educational pursuits of the working adult. Your efforts in and out of the classroom will be evident in the achievements of the students whom you will be teaching.

I am confident that your students and Embry-Riddle will benefit from this association. If you continue to be associated with Embry-Riddle, you may be eligible for promotion in the adjunct ranks depending upon education and experience criteria.

Again, welcome to the large, dedicated group of adjunct faculty at Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University.

Sincerely,

Patricia Harshen for the Dean

Eligibility Criteria

Is your firm Veteran-owned?

"Veteran-owned small business concern" is a small business concern not less than 51% of which is owned by one or more veterans or, in the case of any publicly owned business, not less than 51% of the stock of which is owned by one or more veterans; and the management and daily business operations of which are controlled by one or more veterans. (If you have an other than dishonorable discharge from the U.S. Armed Services, or, for National Guard or Reservists, were activated to Federal Duty, you have veteran status for this program.)

Is your firm service-disabled veteran-owned?

"Service-disabled veteran-owned small business concern" is a small business concern not less than 51% of which is owned by one or more service-disabled veterans or, in the case of any publicly owned business, not less than 51% of the stock of which is owned by one or more veterans; and the management and daily business operations of which are controlled by one or more service-disabled veterans, or, in the case of a veteran with permanent and severe disability, the spouse or permanent caregiver of such veteran. A service-disabled veteran means a veteran with a disability that is service-connected.

What is the minimum disability rating I need to declare myself as a service-disabled veteran?

Public Law 106-50, the Veterans Entrepreneurship and Small Business Development Act of 1999, does not require any minimum rating. A veteran with a zero percent rating letter is eligible to self-represent as a service-disabled veteran for Federal contracting purposes.

What type of documentation do I need?

Federal solicitations contain a provision for veterans to self-represent their status. For prime contract actions with Federal agencies, an owner self-represents his or her status by action on

Dear Battle Enterprises LLC:

On behalf of the Small Business Administration (SBA), Veteran Small Business Certification Program (VetCert), I am writing to inform you that Battle Enterprises LLC's VetCert expiration date has been extended one year from the period of eligibility established by the Department of Veterans Affairs, Center for Verification and Evaluation. Your new VetCert expiration date is Feb. 1, 2025. Battle Enterprises LLC's business profile and period of eligibility, are viewable in the public VetCert database located at <https://veterans.certify.sba.gov>.

This certification is valid until the date of expiration indicated. Please retain a copy of this letter to confirm Battle Enterprises LLC's continued program eligibility in accordance with 13 Code of Federal Regulation (CFR) part 128. You may reapply 120 days prior to your new expiration date by logging into <https://veterans.certify.sba.gov>.

To promote Battle Enterprises LLC's certification status, you may use the following link to download the logo for use on your marketing materials and business cards: <https://ussba.github.io/brand/external-partners/certified-contractors/>. In addition, please access the following link for information on next steps and opportunities for certified businesses: www.sba.gov/vetcert.

Thank you for your service to our country and for continuing to serve America through small business ownership.

Sincerely,

John B. Perkins

RE: Battle Enterprises LLC

To Whom it May Concern:

Essendant Co. ("Seller") is a national wholesale distributor of business and furniture products. Battle Enterprises LLC ("Battle Enterprises") is a customer of Seller. Battle Enterprises has access to the open distribution products Seller sells, and will continue to have access to these products as long as Battle Enterprises remains in good standing with Seller and the products remain available to Seller on acceptable terms.

There are no contractual restrictions between Seller and Battle Enterprises that prohibit Battle Enterprises from reselling the open distribution products inside the United States. "Open distribution products" means products that Seller's suppliers allow Seller to sell to all customers, without restriction.

Sincerely,

Adam Putz
Sr. Director, Resource Center
Essendant Co.
